

W. E. WALTON.

It is absolutely disgusting to read the proceedings of the late republican convention at Louisville. The grand stand performances of the leaders, Taylor's play for sympathy and the participation of such detestable rascals and sell outs as Bill Yost, Tallow Dick Knott and others of their ilk are enough to make one blush for humanity. It must have been fearfully pathetic to see Taylor, his wife and seven children march down the aisle and to have seen him afterwards do the crocodile act as Bradley told of the alleged outrages that had been inflicted on him. We opine, however, that if Taylor did really shed tears it was because of his own sin and not that of others towards him. Romance comes to every conscience no matter how dwarfed and scared, and Taylor must have experienced such a moment as he thought of the grand man sent to his untimely grave by his confidence. All the scenes connected with the fearful tragedy, doubtless rushed to his mind and he saw again the bleeding and dying victim of the foulest political conspiracy of the century. He remembered how he shielded the assassin, by preventing a search of the building occupied by himself and the other conspirators, how he "paraded" men suspected of the crime and attempted to spirit them away disguised as soldiers and protected by a squad sworn to take them to the mountain fastnesses and of how he did other divers and sundry deeds that made the angels weep. No wonder he cried. A savage could not recall such acts and not shed tears. Well might Taylor exclaim, "Oh miserable man that I am, who will deliver me from the body of this death!"

The speeches of those arch traitors, Yost and Knott, pledging their support and allegiance added to the farce-comedy of the whole business, which will be remembered only with disgust. The republican party is sliding down the toboggan to hades and with such welps as the two named, Breckinridge, Brown, Bruce and others, will soon land with a dull thud at the bottom.

Here are some choice excerpts from Senator Deboe's remarks while presiding in the republican convention at Louisville: "The convention will set down and be quiet." "I'll not recognize no man until he takes his seat." "It is now moved and seconded that the election of Gov. Taylor and Gov. Bradley be elected unanimously." "You ain't got no right to monkey with Clay county, if you ain't no delegate, and so on and so on. This will do pretty well for the 'per diem, per day' senator, whose ignorance and stupidity have made him famous. Strange to say no didn't even take a short nap, as is his custom in the Senate chamber, but sat through the entire evening, with eyes wide open and green with envy to see his arch enemy triumph over him and regain the leadership of the party.

Gov. BRADLEY has again resumed his leadership of the Kentucky republicans. He was the "Big I Am" of the convention, and is now regarded as the "Moses" of the party. Great efforts are being brought to bear to have him become the candidate for governor, but he declines all overtures to that end. For awhile it looked like the bottom rail was on top, but brains out weighed instincts in the race for supremacy and Bradley comes to his own again, almost without effort. He will head the delegation to the National convention and dish out Federal pie, while Deboe plays a very weak second fiddle.

Writing of the term "Goebelism," as offensively used by enemies of the great leader, Mr. Waterson turns his attention in Saturday's Courier Journal to the class of cattle who delight in it, and after flaying them alive, pays the highest eulogium to Gov. Goebel, whom he characterizes "as an honest man, a brave and loyal man and a clear, sober, devoted, hard-working, public-spirited man." Such a man indeed was Goebel. His maligners are not worthy to take his name in the sin polluted lips.

These republicans said not a word about the assassination in their platform, but Gov. Bradley succeeded after much opposition in getting the following resolution adopted: "We unconditionally denounce the assassination of Senator Goebel and pledge ourselves against in the detection and the conviction of the assassin." The loud cheering which greeted the reading of this resolution showed how the republicans sympathize with assassination.

Gov. BRADLEY said in his convention speech that with Yost and others whom he named, who had deserted the democratic party, all the brains had departed from it. Nay, nay, Mr. Vice President, you mistake the matter. It is evidently g—t that you mean, especially in the case of Yost.

This Louisville Dispatch, which subtly by stirring up strife and inciting assassination possible, cries out against the Courier Journal's assertion that "There is no peace." Of course as long as the subsidized organs of political trust can raise a row.

The Ovation Herald, edited by the old Confederate, who used to always lively as he now does has either to a six-column or a four-column paper, or to a credit to any man who moved his tears.

Our dispatches tell of the decision of the supreme court in favor of the democrats. The court held as all good lawyers said it would that it had no jurisdiction, denied the writ of error and dismissed the appeal. Justice Harlan, of Kentucky, dissented to the opinion, which was handed down by Chief Justice Fuller. Justice McKenna, agreed in the conclusion, but dissented from the reasoning and Justices Brewer and Brown held that the court had jurisdiction and affirmed the decision of the Kentucky court. Marlan's opinion reads more like a republican stump speech than a legal document. Taylor was very much depressed on receiving the news, but soon rallied and ordered Gen. Collier to dismiss his soldiers and turn his office over to Gov. Beckham. The Frankfort democrats went wild with delight and later many of them marched to Goebel's tomb and deposited flowers thereon. All the courts have decided for the democrats. Now let us have peace.

THE LATEST.

LOUISVILLE, May 21, 1 P. M.—Beckham wins before the supreme court. The Kentucky court of appeals is sustained. C. D. Republicans at Washington are said to have laughed over the lachrymose account of Taylor's performances before the convention at Louisville and one is reported to have said: "He'll have plenty of chance to weep before the State of Kentucky gets through with him. And if there is any truth in the statements of his confederates he will have cause to weep to some purpose."

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION. Bradley has worked himself back to the head of the republican party of Kentucky, and goes to the National convention at the head of the delegation, with an endorsement for vice president, while Deboe is left at home. Those who were damping him a year ago are now bowing down to him. He has made many of them eat dirt—Owensboro Messenger.

The following will go as delegates from the 8th district to the Philadelphia convention: D. R. Collier, of Garrard; and Thos. J. Ballard, of Anderson; alternates, John Ballard, of Shelbyville, and Jesse Kuebeloe, of Spencer. From the 11th, J. A. Coleman, of Palaski, and John B. Hurst, of Harlan; alternates, D. C. Edmunds, of Laurel, and T. S. Scott, of Cumberland.

The presidential elector chosen for this district is J. T. McClintock, of Madison, and M. A. Holcomb for the 11th.

The republican State central committee was reorganized: C. M. Barrett was re-elected chairman and R. L. Gwathmey succeeds K. J. Hampton as secretary. Judge J. H. Tinsley was elected vice chairman. Col. R. F. Buckner was re-elected treasurer.

FREIGHT comes high now. A. C. Sine received two loads of lumber, one from Alabama and one from Nashville, on which the freight was $170.00.

Ab Maple, Sam Kirkirk and Robert Barner were arrested at Harrodsburg. They are said to belong to a band of chicken thieves that extends through Mercer, Boyle, Lincoln and other counties, and that the gang has stolen and marketed 5,000 chickens the past five months.

MANY THANKS.—The Advocate congratulates its contemporary, the INTERIOR JOURNAL, on the evidence of prosperity displayed by its appearance last Friday in an enlarged form. Editor Walton has just installed a new press and promises the patrons of the I. J. that hereafter they shall receive, regularly, a paper as big and as good as the first edition from the new press.—Danville Advocate, 21st.

The Somerset Journal says that Jas. Farmer is in great distress over the disappearance of his son, on April 23rd last, from Gettysburg College, in company with Edward Clements, of Pittsburg, Kas. The boy is named Luke, is 12 years of age and large and heavy for his age; has dark brown hair, blue eyes; clothing marked with full name. Information of his whereabouts will be gladly received by his parents at Somerset.

Desirable Farm At Private Sale.

Desiring to change climate on account of my health, I will sell at private sale my farm of 230 acres in West Lincoln County, Kentucky, 2 1/2 miles East of Hustonville, and 1 1/2 miles West of McKinney on U. S. R. R.

This farm and improvements are among the best in the Blue Grass region of Kentucky. The dwelling is a modern brick and frame, metal roof, containing 9 rooms with bath, porch and veranda. Outbuildings include two stables and commodious barns with 24 box stalls and shed room for 100 cattle or 200 sheep, other buildings include ice-house, buggy house, nest house, coal house, poultry house, lower pit and good tenant house of five rooms. All buildings are in first-class repair and comparatively new. Never failing orchard of best variety of fruit. The larger portion of this farm is first-class tobacco and corn land. Abundance of never failing water, four rock walled ponds, in addition to branch through one side of the place. 200 acres of farm in blue grass or meadow, with 50 acres in wheat and corn; fencing in excellent condition and abundance in quantity.

This farm is in good shape for division, if so desired, as it lies situated in a square, bounded on North and East sides by Hustonville and McKinney Turnpike. This home and farm has to be seen to be appreciated. Any one wishing to secure a very desirable place will rarely meet with an opportunity to find this quality on the market. Terms liberal. Any person desiring to know the price or to be invited to call on or see the place, call on J. H. McROBERTS, Danville, Ky.

THE business manager will be at Mr. Vernon next Monday, first day of circuit court, and hopes to meet his old friends and patrons. See him if you want the cheapest and best paper in the State.

AN Indiana man was here last week trying to buy out William Hamilton, the jeweler, but that gentleman knows a good thing and consequently did not sell. The Hoosier offered him $1,200 for his stock and $300 for his good will.

CLOSED.—Prof. M. O. Winfrey's school closed Friday and the professor and wife left yesterday for Glasgow to spend most of the summer. L. R. Hughes and mother will occupy the house they vacated, while their new house is being built.

IN FRANCE.—Mr. Ed Wilkinson has a letter from his sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert Wilkinson, at New Decatur, Ala., saying that a cablegram from Paris, France, from her husband, who was mysteriously missing, told her of his safe arrival there, but gave no explanation of his sudden departure from home.

30 to 3.—The Danville "soph's" can't play ball a little bit. They came up Saturday afternoon in high feather, but returned with heads bowed down. At the end of the sixth inning the score stood 30 to 3 in favor of our boys and the visitors threw up the sponge. The Stanford battery, Harry Higgins and George Florence, as usual, did fine work.

SOMERSET, known to the majority of the patrons of Beasley Bros' livery stable, is no more. He got away from Driver John Sneed in Danville Saturday, and while running, fell and broke one of his front legs in two places, making it necessary to kill him. He was a great horse for long drives and made more hard trips and came in in better shape than any horse in Central Kentucky. This makes three horses the above firm has lost in a month.

THE commencement calendar of Stanford Female College is as follows: May 29, 5 P. M., the Art Reception at the College; Sunday, June 3, at 10:30 A. M., the Anniversary Sermon by Rev. J. B. Savage, of Danville, at the Baptist church; Wednesday, June 6, at 8 P. M., Annual Concert at Walton's Opera House; Thursday, June 7, at 10:30 A. M., in the same building, Commencement Address by Rev. W. H. Ryalls, of Richmond, and conferring degrees on graduates.

SIX years ago Sunday, six inches of snow covered the ground. It was quite cold enough for snow this time, as the mercury went below 50 and the air felt frosty Sunday and yesterday. Old observers say that from May 23 to June 5 is the time when blackberries bloom and should a cold spell happen during the dates mentioned it will be the forerunner for an immense crop of the luscious berries for that year. A good rain fell Friday night, which was worth thousands of dollars to the farmers.

THU. TIME.—Chief Train Dispatcher L. M. Westerfield, who was there, says the Knights of Pythias had a big time at the fair grounds near Pittsburg. Between 2,000 and 3,000 people were on hand, there was abundance to eat, and there was no tap and nothing occurred to mar the pleasure of the occasion. At night the splendid new hall was dedicated with appropriate ceremonies and some fine initiatory work done. It was a big day for the K. P.'s and it is to be hoped that much good to the order will result from it.

ABRAHAM.—Five funerals in one household in 17 months is the unusual record in the Abraham family. First Mr. George C. Abraham died at the age of 80, then Miss Marietta, daughter of W. F. Abraham, 22. Miss Sidney Abraham, aged 27, Miss Klute, 75, and Saturday Mr. W. F. Abraham, breathing his last of Bright's disease, aged 72, leaving but one of a formerly prominent family, Mrs. Martha Arnold, aged 75. Elder J. G. Livingston preached the funeral sermons of them all, that of the last to die Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, when the body of W. F. Abraham, was laid with the rest in the family burying ground on the premises that all were born and raised. The remarks of the preacher, whose friend he was, were both touching and appropriate and then live of his brother Confederate, Judge M. C. Sanley, J. H. Miller, M. S. Peyton, R. G. Collier and G. W. DeBor, consigned the remains to the tomb. Deceased was a member of Capt. T. H. Shanks' company, Grigsby's regiment, and served gallantly through the war for the cause that was lost. After the war he dealt largely in stock and was quite a prominent man in affairs generally. Some 23 years ago he married Mrs. Harriett Buchanan, who bore him one child, Marietta, whose sad death nearly broke his heart and from the effects of which he never recovered. When he was taken ill last winter, he sent for Elder Livingston to whom he made a confession and by whom he was baptized in a box of water made for that purpose. Like the rest of the family, all of whom, it will be seen lived to old age, he hung on to life with great tenacity and for months had been at the point of death, which finally came as a result of his work.

WITH his storeroom brightened with new paper and otherwise improved, Mr. Joseph Gishburg is better able than ever to wait on his big trade.

IF this is not what you call a newspaper in every sense you are pretty hard to please. At any rate we are proud of it and hope our patrons feel the same way.

DR. J. C. BARKER, of Hustonville, asks us to state that the Casey County Medical Society will be held at Liberty Thursday, when an interesting program will be carried out.

THERE were 37 white persons examined by Miss Kate Boyle and L. R. Hughes for teachers' certificates Friday and Saturday. The colored applicants will be examined next Friday and Saturday.

THIEVES entered Alex Traylor's house Saturday night and got away with $1.50 and a few other things. They took Mr. Traylor's clothes but were clever enough to leave them in the garden.

THE L. & N. will sell tickets to the Confederate Reunion at Louisville, May 28-30, at one cent a mile, making the round trip fare from here $2.10. Tickets good till June 4th, with privilege of extension to the 10th.

THE glorious news of the democratic victory before the supreme court was the subject of inquiry from this office from points in Casey, Pulaski and Garrard. Our telephone bell was rung almost continually from 1 to 6 P. M. by anxious inquirers.

PRESSES.—We are indebted to the Danville Advocate, Somerset Journal and Corbin Pathfinder for notices that we have a nearly new 33x47 Drum Cylinder Cottrell Press and a 14x22 Gordon used but little for sale. "With other newspapers also favor us with a notice and draw on us for ad libitum."

JAMES FRYE, one of Hustonville's solid merchants, resumes his advertisement after a rest of a few months, during which time he has seen the advantage derived from advertising in a good newspaper. He has painted his store green, named it green, uses green wrapping paper but is not a green merchant by a long shot.

A HERO in war, a statesman in peace and a born orator will lecture at Walton's Opera House, Friday night, for the benefit of the Perryville Battle Field Park. Gen. Gordon, "the officer who was nearest to the great heart of Gen. Robert E. Lee," will tell about the war in which he took so active a part and all both Confederate and Federal with martial enthusiasm. It is rare treat to embrace such a man with us. Be sure to embrace this, perhaps last chance to hear him.

4TH OF JULY.—At the meeting Friday night, the committee on program reported the following order of exercises for the day: Thirteen guns are to be fired at 7 A. M. by artillery battery. Parade of floats, etc., at 9:30 A. M. Speaking and music by bands and choruses from 10:30 to 12. In the afternoon ballroom assemblage, races of various kinds, contests of local talent in several lines, to conclude with free works from 8 to 9 P. M. Committee on printing, E. H. Beasley and John S. Baughman; committee on relics and museum, J. C. McClary, Joe F. Waters and A. A. Warren.

BOSLEY O. K.—The alleged shortage in Postmaster Bosley's accounts at Paris shows no dishonesty on his part or that of his assistants. It seems to have been an error in bookkeeping. The amount, $251, subject to a credit of $100, was promptly paid by Mr. Bosley, who rather hastily sent in his resignation, which he afterwards withdrew. In the meantime, so Mr. Bosley tells the Democrat, Senator Deboe had, on the recommendation of George Denny named Sherman Silvers for the place thereupon, Mr. Bosley wrote Senator Deboe a tart letter, taking him to task for trying to throw down a friend, and then Deboe withdrew his recommendation.

LEGAL PAPERS SOLD.—A few issues ago, we published an item that Gold & Bickoff, the junk dealers, had bought a lot of papers, which was evidently from the Casey county clerk's office, as it contained old deeds, marriage licenses, patents, etc., of an ancient nature. The item scared up the clerk, I. C. Dye, and he employed Attorney Geo. E. Stone to recover them. He wrote to Mr. G. B. Cooper to secure J. B. Paxton to that end and when they went to the junk dealers, they wanted $400 to give the papers up, although they had given but $2.40 for the 300 pounds. They did this on the advice of a Danville attorney, who told them not to surrender them for less than $1,000. They finally, however, after some dickering, agreed to take $10 and that amount was paid. It seems that Jailer Tom Bell, of Casey, not knowing that the papers were valuable, sold them to W. M. Lipe, who, in turn, sold them to Gold & Bickoff. No one is suspected of any wrong intention in the matter and the worst that can be charged is
